Granite City Township has increased its proposed 1977-78 operating budgets by 40.3 per cent to a total of $1,273,170, according to budget documents posted for public inspection at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens, who also serves as town clerk.

The new budget total is $365,618 higher than the 1976-77 appropriation of $907,552 under which the township operated during the last fiscal year.

Bulk of the increase is in the federal revenue sharing budget which is set at $754,750, and increase from $506,000 last year. The revenue sharing budget provides for payment of construction of the new Town Hall being built at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue at $640,000.

In addition, it projects an expenditures of $75,000 to buy adjoining land in the vicinity of the new building for parking facilities.

The new budgets will be subject to Town Board (City Council) approval in a special meeting during June.

Total projected expenditures in the town fund are budgeted at $223,320, up from $159,952 last year, and proposed expenditures in the general assistance fund are listed at $257,100, up from $221,600 last year.

NEW PORT TERMINAL site is indicated by the arrow. This aerial view looking northeast in the wide harbor area of the Chain of Rocks Canal, immediately north of Granite City Locks 27, shows current facilities operated by the Tri-City Regional Port District. Ground was broken Saturday for a $2,750,000 dry bulk Mississippi River terminal.

'New economic vitality' at port

With the morning sun brightly gleaming on their shovels, Tri-City Regional Port District officials broke ground Saturday for a $2,750,000 dry bulk terminal that is expected to encourage local economic growth.

"For the Tri-City area, this project symbolizes the beginning of new vitality in our economy," Chairman John N. Bellico commented to a gathering of about 50 at the ceremony.

"We can and will play an important role in the future of the St. Louis metropolitan area. And this project is important to the state of Illinois because it provides an improved outlet for agricultural products. Without facilities of this type, Illinois could not maintain its enviable position as the leading export state."

All types of whole grains, plus soybean meal, corn gluten pellets and soda ash are among the leading products expected to be handled by the new terminal. Construction of the facility is likely to be completed within a year, it was noted at the groundbreaking.

Features of the terminal will include a railroad line over a large pile, where products can be dumped, weighed and sent on a conveyor to the edge of the dock for placement in barges.

Elements of the "multiple-commodity handling facility" are dolphins, a mooring cell, steel loading tower, dust system, conveyor system, concrete pit and the trackwork. The Illinois Capital Development Board is financing the project, with the Port District agreeing to repay the bond issue from operation of the new terminal.

Charles Black, CDB project manager, said he foresees no problems in bringing the project to completion by next spring. Gene H. Sternberg, the general contractor, praised the policies and progress of the port district.

Swimming safety campaign

"Let's be water safe this summer," a community learn-to-swim campaign sponsored by the Granite City Press-Record and Tri-City Area YMCA, will be held June 6 through 10.

Participants must be six years or older and have beginning swimming ability.

Eleven classes will be conducted for 45 minutes, starting at 9, 9:45, 10:30, and 11:15 a.m., and 1, 1:45, 2:30, 3:15, 4, 6:30 and 7:15 p.m.

Location will be the Tri-City Area YMCA 2001 Edison Ave. The fee will be $5 and an application deadline is Friday, June 3, at 5 p.m.

The five-day lesson series will include six major steps in learning to swim:

1. Water adjustment.
2. Gliding.
3. Kicking.
4. Putting arms.
5. Putting it all together.
6. Water mishap prevention is a big element in water safety," a YMCA spokesman said today.

"Learning to swim at an early age is the best defense against drowning accidents."

Additional training in self-rescue and lifesaving skills is available.

"We encourage public awareness of the many aquatic programs conducted throughout the year by community agencies like the YMCA."

Bernard, Walter "Buck" Simmons and Karandjeff; Sen. Vadalabene; Port Treasurer Avery Schermer and Port Chairman John N. Bellico. Not present were Secretary Clyde Boyd and Commissioner Von Dee Cruise.

Examples are the progressive swim programs, learn-to-swim week, drown-proof clinics, water sports, lifesaving, pre-school and parent-child instruction and adult swim classes.

"We urge specific family concern to 'drown-proof' each family member."

Additional programs to drown-proof families include the following:

Preschool age: diaper dip (age 6 months and up) and tadpoles (age 3-5).

"I am looking for an impartial, but experienced, committee from outside of the Nameki Township area and would prefer an attorney with election experience to chair the committee. The remainder, I believe, should be experienced election judges," he said.

Although Judge Rarick will be assigned to hear cases next week in Bond County, he said he will make every effort to be sure by mid-week that the five defendants in the suit, including new Supervisor Harold Davis, have been served with summonses legally notifying them of the suit.

He said he also will determine which attorneys, if any, are representing those named in the suit.

He said the summonses, which already should have been served to Davis, Assessor Carl Macios, and Trustees W. Lee Adams, Jerry Adams and Norman Hessler, notify them of the suit and give them 30 days in which to file a response, or default judgement could be taken against them. No specific date for a hearing has been set.

As soon as all answers have been filed and attorneys for each have been identified, a date for a hearing can be set, the judge said, noting the attorneys then will be given 90

Although a hearing will be held to determine if an election challenge petition filed by defeated supervisor Louis Whitsett and four other losers is valid, the judge said he already is considering who should serve on a committee to recount the ballots.

"If you haven't got a 40 channel radio, you are definitely missing something."

The new channels are quite different from the regular 25. For one thing, they are so beautifully quiet.

Many people don't have 24-40. The noise level, which is caused by so many different signals coming over together, is naturally a lot lower up there on the higher frequencies.

Of course, those frequencies have always been there and for a long time they were given to users other than CB. There was also a group of "bandits," that is, illegal operators, up there for years.

They didn't use "handles" up there, just unit numbers.

Most of those guys have been taken from those channels, though. They have since left for other places on the band.

Installation of curbing and guttering along the south side of Edwardsville Road is under way under a state contract in preparation for resurfacing of the roadway between 21st Street and the Madison City limits.

Completion of the curb and guttering work is expected to take about two more weeks, followed by the installation of a new bituminous roadway.

The work is being done by the C. D. Peters Construction Co. under contract with the Illinois State Department of Transportation.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said the project is the first phase of a state plan to improve Edwardsville Road and Highway 162. Edwardsville Road is also known as Illinois Route 203 as far north as Nameki Road. The section of East 23rd Street from Nameki Road to Highway 162 also is to be improved.

In accordance with planning notices sent to city officials, the improvement work will be done by the state at no cost to the city.

The stretch of East 23rd between Nameki Road and Highway 162, now state-owned right-of-way, will be deeded to the city for maintenance purposes once drainage and resurfacing work is completed.

Miss Darla J. McGarvey and John R. Rose of Columbia, Mo., exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony, May 7, at Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church in Madison.

Bouquets of white gladioli accented with blue tipped mums and greenery decorated the sanctuary and burning tapers in hurricane standards illuminated the white carpeted aisle for the double ring ceremony performed at 3 p.m. by the Rev. Edwin Phillips.

Guitarist Thom Bowles and organist Mrs. Angie Maclos accompanied Miss Vikki Hasty, vocalist. Wedding music included "Colour My World," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Robinson, 2324 Emert Ave. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rose, reside at Rural Route One, Parkersburg, Ill.

For her wedding the bride chose a full length white organza gown featuring a high neckline, collared with cotton corded lace etched with pearls, matching the vest front and back of the bodice.

Long bishop sleeves edged with a deep cuff of lace enhanced the vertical lines of small lace on the full circular skirt, which cascaded into a chapel train.

Her double fingertip veil of white illusion, edged with matching cotton lace, was secured by a camelot hat of lace and pearls. She held a bouquet of white roses centered with cattleya orchid and baby's breath.

Miss Maria McGarvey, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant. She wore a pale blue full length organza dress styled with a shirred bodice, tiny straps and a-line skirt, worn with a ruffled edged cape.

Bridesmaids Miss Debbie Holt, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Sandy Bowles, Miss Donna Pieper and Miss Patty Dooley, selected identical dresses in rainbow colors of mile green, apricot, orchid and pale yellow.

Each held long stem white roses accented with baby's breath, and they wore wide brim picture hats to match their attire.

Kelly Jo Murphy, the flower girl, was dressed in white frock created with angel wing sleeves trimmed in blue. She held a small plateau basket of daisies in various hues.

Randy R. Robinson, a brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Candlelighters were Miss Elaine Riedel and Miss Robin Rose, a niece of the groom.

The groom chose his brother, Phillip Rose, as best man. George Weber, Rick Sterling, Dan McGarry and Ron Patridge were groomsmen.

Jan and Troy Rose and Tony Bratsch, all nephews of the groom, escorted the guests to their seats.

Miss Donna and Dorothy Holt, the bride's cousins, attended the guest book at a reception held at Polish Hall in Madison.

The rehearsal dinner was served at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Robinson, mother of the bride, selected a long blue chiffon Empire style dress with a V-neckline, complemented with a floral hand screened cape. Her corsage was composed of white roses with blue and white daisies.

The groom's mother was attired in a pastel yellow floor length A-line gown featuring a mandarin collar and wide obi sash of polyester knit. She wore a yellow carnation, white rose and white daisies.

A 1973 graduate of South High School, the bride is working as a bookkeeper in the office of the city clerk, Granite City. The groom graduated in 1975 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a M.S. degree. He is now employed in the Missouri office of Administration Division of Budget and Planning.

Following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, Mo., the couple will reside in Columbia, Mo., after June 1.

Quiet

It's kinda strange, but some folks like to run illegal frequencies. I haven't figured out why, but I imagine it might be something akin to forbidden fruit.

Now that 24-40 are legal frequencies, a lot of new people are learning about the quiet ones, since most of the new radios sold are 40 channel.

Funny thing is that not too many folks are standing by on the higher ones, probably because they are so quiet, but that is exactly what makes them so attractive.

US funds

retirement payments totals $38,500, an $18,500 increase over the 1976-77 appropriation of $20,000 last year.

The town fund budget schedules expenditures of $28,733 as compensation of town officers, listing a salary of $15,833 for the township assessor, compared to $15,000 last year. The salary of the township supervisor is budgeted at $8,400, up from $7,200 last year.

Major changes in the proposed new budget are listed in expenditures for operation of the assessor's office which total $149,175, an increase from the $115,775 figure last year.

Budgeted items for the assessor's office include $1,200 for travel and expenses of the township assessor, same as last year, but include a new item of $1,200 for a "field man's travel expense."

The salary total for the chief deputy assessor, clerical workers and deputy assessors is set at $120,000, up from $87,300 last year.

An amount of $6,500 is budgeted for town officers' expenses.

A total of $10,910 is budgeted for the town collector to finance the annual collection of taxes which now is done at the expense of the township.

This item includes $6,000 for clerical, help and $3,000 for postage and envelopes. The total cost is unchanged from last year.

Other items in the town fund include $2,700 for officers bond premiums, $11,000 for other services and expenses, $1,500 for contingencies and $12,000 for insurance.

The general assistance budget projects $176,500 for home relief purposes, of which $130,000 is projected as expenditures for food.

A total of $22,000 is budgeted for medical care, $6,500 for rent payments, $1,900 for fuel costs and $15,000 for light payments. The only change from last year's budget is a $250 increase in the cost for fuel.

An item of $23,000 for payments to private hospitals for relief clients is listed and a total of $56,100 is budgeted for administration, up from $49,100 last year. The increase this year is in the cost of salaries at $42,000, up from $37,500 last year, for administration workers other than elected officials.

Cost of burials is budgeted at $1,000 and the fund for contingencies is set at $500.

Election

opportunity to challenge the validity of the suit and its three counts.

After that hearing, if the suit is found to have valid points requiring a recount, a committee to recount the ballots will be appointed, Judge Rarick explained.

The suit was filed on behalf of Whitsett, unsuccessful tax assessor candidate Loren Madison, defeated incumbent trustee Kenneth Giesen, and unsuccessful trustee candidate Mrs. Helen Hawkins and Harlan Pervan.

H. Carl Runge Jr., the former township attorney, filed the suit in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville April 28.

Count one of the suit alleges precinct six had more than the maximum number of registered voters set by law at 800.

Count two contains various allegations of irregularities by candidates, poll watchers and judges in precincts five, six, eight and nine.

The third count alleges mistakes or fraud in the counting of the ballots in all 11 precincts and requests a recount.

After the election, Whitsett and others filed for a discovery review of the ballots and each ballot cast was reviewed by the candidates involved in the challenge.

Several unsuccessful candidates are claiming that on the basis of the ballots reviewed, they should have been elected and will be seated after a recount.

Runge, who also attended the two-day discovery review, predicts that Mrs. Hawkins will be found to have been elected and that Whitsett will be returned to the supervisor's post by a few votes.

Davis defeated Whitsett in the initial counting by 35 votes, Madison defeated Madison by 41 and the trustee balloting was very close with Andy Besserman and Mrs. Hawkins receiving 149 votes each, eight less than the 157 received by Jerry Adams.

A drawing had to be held to decide whether Besserman or Mrs. Hawkins would be seated as the fourth trustee, and Besserman was the winner.

Runge predicts the recount will leave them tied, but with more votes each than Jerry Adams, thus removing Jerry Adams from the board. Successful candidates are disagreeing with Runge's predictions.

Faces theft charge

Thomas Leo Cox, 40, Florissant, Mo., was charged Thursday with a felony count of theft after he allegedly failed to make bank deposits on several occasions for Budget Optical Co., 3675 Nameoki Road, while employed by them.

The owner alleged she was examining the financial records of the store and noticed several deposits had been given to an employee to deposit in a bank, but had not been deposited.

The deposits which did not reach the bank totaled more than $1,100, police reported. Cox allegedly admitted failing to make the deposits and returned about $550 of the money to the owner.

Athletes from North, South in state meet

Three Granite City athletes have gained berths in the 1977 edition of the Illinois High School Association Class AA state track and field finals this weekend at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

District participants advance by equaling or surpassing state qualifying marks, or by finishing first or second in individual events.

The 20-school district meet was held at Highland. Warrior Jay Huebner will be GCHS South's lone representative in the state meet, having placed third in the shot put event with a distance of 53-11 1/2 feet. The state requirement is 52 feet.

Distance runner Mike Baker of GCHS North placed second in the two-mile run in 9:47 behind winner Keith Martin of Collinsville, who finished in 9:35.6.

And Steeler Jim Shemwell of North qualified in shot put competition with a distance of 52-4 1/2 feet, finishing fifth.

Team efforts saw the Flyers of East St. Louis Senior High capture their third straight district title with 60 points and qualify three relay squads and 15 individuals for the state meet.

Rounding out the team finish order are Alton 47 1/2, East St. Louis Lincoln, 45, Belleville West 25, Belleville East 10 1/2, Edwardsville 17, Collinsville 13, Macouli 11, O'Fallon 7 1/2, GCHS North seven, GCHS South five, Cahokia three, Belleville Althoff two, Jerseyville and Wood River one each and Greenville, a half-point.

Sifford winner on slippery auto track

Blinded by a constant barrage of dust and hampered by slick track conditions, which he likened to driving on icy slush, Jerry Sifford of Imperial, Mo., held onto a lead to win a 30-lap late model feature race at Tri-City Speedway Saturday.

Sifford has taken start-to-finish feature race victories in two consecutive weeks of racing on the local track.

On Saturday, he managed to lengthen his lead until he had lapped 17 of the 23 cars that began the race.

Only five other cars completed the full 30 laps. They were Joe Ross of Mechanicsburg; G.C. Corbin of East Alton; Kevin Gundaker of St. Louis; Kenny Shrum of St. Louis; Kenny Shrum of St. Louis; Charles, Mo.; and Kenny Schrader of Kirksville, Mo.

Finishing also in the late model feature were: Norm Cox, Berkeley; Gary Potter, St. Charles; Rich Rice, Carlinville; and Butch McGowan, Hardin, Ill.

A rash of engine problems coupled with the track conditions took a large number of cars from the running.

Winds scatter balloons, pilot 'lands' in GC ditch

Ten giant hot-air balloons — launched from the St. Louis riverfront at the start of Sunday evening's ceremonies commemorating the 50th anniversary of Charles Lindbergh's flight — floated lazily over the Quad-City area, but the feelings were anything but casual for the passengers in the balloon baskets.

Tricky winds and downdrafts sent the balloons off their selected course and scattered them over several miles.

One balloon touched down in Horseshoe Lake but was able to get airborne again for a short time, before coming down again in the Nameeki Drainage Ditch just south of Johnson Road at 5:55 p.m. Sunday.

The downed balloon drew spectators from a wide area and a traffic tieup developed on Johnson Road and side streets as cars lined up to park at the Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, to see the balloon. There were no injuries.

Another balloon was unable to have struck power lines as it landed along Route 203 south of Madison, but St. Clair County authorities said they have no reports of such a landing.

Police said an ambulance was called to the area of St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison on a report the balloon had struck power lines and the passengers were injured.

Illinois state police, Madison County and St. Clair County sheriff's deputies and local ambulance firms said they had no reports of that landing.

Yet another balloon appeared to have landed north of Granite City, but no confirmation was available.

About seven of the balloons landed safely in the vicinity of Route 111 and Interstate 270. The landings caused traffic tieups along Route 111, similar to tieups last month when several hot-air balloons landed there.

The Illinois House passed 95-69 last week a new allocation of funds to McCormick Place to finance its expansion and possibly a new Chicago sports arena. ## Expanding role seen for Bi-State Agency

The claim that the Bi-State Development Agency is "more than a bus company" has received additional support with approval by the Board of Commissioners for investigation of possible agency involvement in several new metropolitan St. Louis region projects.

Construction of a coal transfer terminal on the Mississippi River, parking facilities for thousands of automobiles at the Convention Center and Gateway Arch, and continued research into an energy recovery program are projects which the Bi-State staff has been authorized to pursue.

Robert J. Baer, executive director, has stressed that revenues derived from the half-cent St. Louis-St. Louis County sales tax for bus services cannot legally and will not be involved in these projects.

"Bi-State has the authority to issue revenue bonds for various projects," Baer said. "Such funding is attractive because the bonds would be retired from user fees at no cost to taxpayers in these municipal areas in which the development occurs."

"We're now on the threshold of becoming involved in the type of activity that was envisioned by the Missouri and Illinois General Assemblies in their creation of Bi-State," he said.

"Implementation of these projects would represent not only a major factor in the economic revitalization of our entire metropolitan area, but determination on Bi-State's part to move ahead with creative solutions to problems, including the energy crisis, which we are uniquely empowered to address."

Bi-State has been called a "sleeping giant," Baer said, referring to the fact that it is the only two-state body which has the power to implement programs of a regional nature to solve problems that are too complex and costly for any single governmental jurisdiction.

The possibility that Bi-State might finance and construct a facility designed to transfer coal arriving by train from the Northwest to river barges for shipment to major power plants and heavy industrial users throughout the lower Mississippi and Ohio River valleys is an "exciting one," Baer said.

He said an agreement could be negotiated with American Commercial Barge Lines Western, Inc., to operate the facility with Bi-State issuing an estimated $25 million in revenue bonds to finance the project. It would require 40 acres of land near Hall Street presently owned by ACBL Western Inc.

"Construction of this facility would create several hundred new construction jobs," Baer said, "and when operational would permanently employ at least 40 people, plus creating more than 200 jobs for train and barge crews."

Baer said a newly-approved Regional Port Development Plan prepared by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council identified the proposed site as appropriate for immediate development as an industrial park, with the prime market being the movement of Western coal.

"With our dependence on coal increasing, if the St. Louis region can act quickly, it can capture a major portion of this market."

"And if we can offer attractive financing and demonstrate community support for this major transportation market, I am confident that additional business will be attracted."

"This is the type of cooperative venture that our agreements with the City of St. Louis and the other port districts of Missouri and Illinois can bring about."

Baer said the Bi-State Agency has been asked by representatives of the National Park Service to consider financing and constructing a parking facility north of the Gateway Arch as part of a master plan for the future development of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial.

The preliminary plan envisions a low-profile structure for approximately 1,100 cars. It would primarily serve Arch visitors but could also accommodate tourist information areas, Bi-State-operated shuttle bus services and public restroom facilities for the large number of tourists to waterfront attractions.

Baer estimated construction costs at $4 million, financed through issuance of revenue bonds by the agency and possible further support from income derived from the operation of the Bi-State-operated transportation system at the Arch.

He said representatives of the Convention Plaza Redevelopment Corporation have asked Bi-State to consider the financing and construction of two parking garages immediately east and west of the new Convention Center.

They would provide not only parking for 2,000 vehicles but also bus terminal space at the street level for Illinois and Missouri bus lines. The facilities would permit direct connection into the meeting areas and hotels at the Convention Center site.

The estimated cost of approximately $7.5 million would again be financed through revenue bonds issued by the agency.

Baer said research is continuing into the possibility of Bi-State involvement in an energy recovery project, with a report expected later this month.

VHS students, faculty to spend day at Six Flags

The entire Venice High School student body and faculty will spend Tuesday at Six Flags Over Mid-America amusement park, near Pacific, Mo.

The senior class trip also will include junior and sophomore students for the first time. All three grade levels will take their annual field trips to the same location on the same date, Venice Supt. Robert N. Vickers said.

Teachers are required to take part in the outing, with an appropriate number riding the buses as chaperones.

Plans for the day-long excursion were approved by the Venice Board of Education at its meeting last week.

Highlighting the board session was the presentation of engraved plaques to Elmer A. Taylor and William J. Fehle, former board members.

Taylor, a 13-year member of the school board, was defeated in his bid for re-election in the April 8 election.

Fehle, who served on the board for three years, did not seek a second term.

Both men received expressions of appreciation for service to the district from Board President, the Rev. Richard Bailey, and other members.

In other action, the board approved a request by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission to use the school cafeteria for a summer feeding program but denied the Venice Park District's request which sought use of the school gymnasium for its summer recreational program.

Board members noted considerable vandalism had occurred to school property last summer when participants in the park program were using the gym. Forced entry was made into both the physical education and band rooms, it was reported.

The board authorized advertising for bids for a school van and to extend the employment period by one week for the Title VII director and secretary due to an evaluation study being scheduled at that time.

Also authorized was purchase of a 21-inch power lawnmower and to retain the firm of C. J. Schlosser of Allon as school district auditors.

The board voted not to extend the probationary period of employment of a bus driver at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. The person had been hired less than 30 days, it was noted.

Summer BAC registration

The dates of Belleville Area College's summer session registration have been changed. Open registration will be May 31 and June 1 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and June 2 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. The college will be closed on Friday, June 3, as part of BAC's energy conservation program. Registration will not be held on June 3 as had been announced in the summer session class schedule.

Late registration for the summer session will be June 5, 7 and 8 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Students with schedule changes should come to the college during this time, it was noted. Belleville Area College has implemented a summer four-day work week in an attempt to conserve energy. Summer classes will not be affected by the four-day work week. The college will be open 10 hours each day, Monday through Thursday.

Special education olympics

Fifty Quad-City children from special education classes in the area took part in special olympics at Belleville East High School. They brought back 70 medals and 32 ribbons. All first and second-place winners should advance to the state finals in Chicago in July. Funds were raised from Quad-Cityans at various locations late in April.

There was a road block at 6th Street and Madison Avenue Saturday to raise enough money to buy uniforms and provide transportation for the children going to Chicago.

Local sponsor for the children is the Council for Exceptional children.

Among Quad-City children who participated in the olympics, 17 received gold medals, 16 received silver medals and 22 received bronze medals.

The girls relay team made up of four children, received gold medals and the boys relay team of four members received silver medals.

Nine youngsters also won ribbons for fourth, fifth or sixth place.

PRICES GO UP. Granite City motorists crowd the office of City Clerk Robert "Bob" Stevens to purchase their wheel tax stickers for passenger cars before a price increase became effective last week. The stickers were selling at $3, but as of Monday the price rose to $5.50 as a penalty to late purchasers. The stickers have been on sale at the city clerk's office since April 18. Granite City police officers have begun issuing citations to motorists for failure to display the stickers.

Flipper Tail event Sunday in Madison

The Flipper-Tails CB Club of Granite City will sponsor its first annual "break" from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

It will be a fun affair with prizes, refreshments and trophies to be awarded in various categories of competition. Bill Skinner (CB handle — Niteman), club president, said. "The public is invited to attend," he stressed.

Twenty booths are planned where CB'ers will show various handicrafts. Dealers also will display the latest in equipment, Skinner advised.

The Mossburg Shetgun band will provide live musical entertainment during the afternoon and early evening Sunday.

Among the gifts to be presented, Skinner noted, are a television, a 40-channel mobile CB radio, power mikes, power pack converter and about 100 pounds of groceries, the club president said.

2 on cycle hurt

Two young people were injured when their motorcycle went out of control and fell on 27th Street west of State Street last week.

Robertson was taken by police to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a bruise to his right knee and was released.

A passenger on the motorcycle, Janey Cole, 19, of 911 Greenwood St., Madison, was taken by ambulance to the hospital where she was treated for a cut to the back of her head and bruises to both knees. She underwent x-rays to her head and was released.

MORE THAN A LITTLE WET. Shelly Connor (left) and Carol Douglas, freshmen at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from Granite City, struggle to keep an errant fire hose in custody during 1977 Springfest activities. The girls were supposed to be aiming the stream of water at contestants in the tricycle race, but part of the fun of Springfest is getting one's self into the action and the two girls succeeded.

Rise in school loans

Education loans for veterans have nearly doubled in a year, the Veterans Administration reports. The VA approved 1,518 education loans during March, the largest monthly total since the program was started two years ago. In March, 1976, 870 were approved.

More than 16,500 loans worth $10 million had been granted through 1976.

The VA makes educational loans, up to a maximum of $1,500 per academic year, to needy veterans and dependents beyond regular VA allowances to meet educational costs. Applications come from students enrolled under the GI Bill and from dependents using the dependents' educational program.

Loans are limited to students enrolled in a school in the U.S., its territories and possessions, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or the Canal Zone.

Applicants must be enrolled on a half-time basis, or more, in courses leading to a standard college degree—or in a program of at least six months' duration which leads to a professional or vocational objective.

No loans are made for correspondence, flight, high school or on-the-job training.

Applicants first must apply for a guaranteed student loan administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

If they are turned down for the HEW loan, or fail to get the full amount, they can be considered by the VA.

Repayment of principal and interest is deferred until nine months after the student ceases enrollment. Full payment is due within 10 years and nine months.

No interest is charged until the beginning of the repayment period. At that time, interest starts on the unpaid balance at the rate of seven per cent per annum. There is no prepayment penalty.

A three per cent fee is deducted from the face amount of the loan to provide an insurance fund for defaults.

College pre-registration dates; billing by computer

Pre-registration for fall semester classes at Belleville Area College begins June 13 and will continue through July 28. Students planning to attend the college may register between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The BAC district includes the Quad-Cities.

Anyone, whether a new student or a currently enrolled student, may go through pre-registration.

Fall schedules have been mailed to all currently enrolled students. A copy of the schedule may be secured by calling the BAC Admissions Office.

Previously, tuition payments were required at the time of registration. Under the new system, BAC students will be billed by computer after they have registered.

Computerized pre-registration allows students to instantly find out which classes are still open, what classes they still need to take before they can graduate, etc., a spokesman said. Currently, the registrar's office has the capacity to register as many as 800 students per day.

Open registration will be held Aug. 15, 16 and 17. However, to avoid last-minute lines, students are being encouraged to utilize pre-registration.

Sea food business to open

A new business featuring a variety of fresh sea food will open on Thursday, May 26, from 4 to 8 p.m. at 2818 Nameoki Road, directly across from St. John Cemetery.

To be known as Central Sea Food Co., Inc., the wholesale and retail business is owned and operated by Harry Evans.

After the initial opening the business will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. every Friday, Saturday and Sunday only. All merchandise will be shipped here from the gulf area near Louisiana and Mississippi, Evans added.

The sea food items will be sold in half dozen, dozen and larger quantities to accommodate families or individual needs, according to the owner.

Although the business is not designed to serve the public as a restaurant, and all orders are on a carry-out basis, Evans said he plans to expand his menu of carry-out orders to include shrimp gumbo, smoked shrimp and other creole recipes, if the demand should warrant.

He also plans to prepare a low-calorie diet shrimp salad on Friday only in the expansion program.

To order in advance, area residents may call 877-2686, Evans said.

The Rev. Paul Bryant officiated at the double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock. Nuptial selections included "Twelfth of Never," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding the bride chose a full length Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a V-design on the bodice marked with a lace ruffle and lace beading with pink ribbon and blue rosettes, which also formed the high stand up collar.

The ruffled cuffs of the long lapped sleeves were also accented with the ribbon trim. Her A-line skirt was encircled with a gathered flounce and extended into a chapel train.

She wore a fingertip veil of bridal illusion held in place with a lace cap and she held a nosegay of white daisies, pink carnations and blue baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Ruth Wilson, junior bridesmaid, Miss Colleen Pickard, the flower girl, Carrie Thompson, a cousin of the groom, were dressed alike in pink polyester gowns. Their A-line style gowns were created with V-necklines, handkerchief type sleeves and Empire waistlines marked with a rose.

The bridesmaids carried nosegays of pink daisies, white carnations and baby's breath and the flower girl carried a basket of similar blossoms.

The groom chose his cousin, Tim Varady as best man, Jerry Lynn Respondek, a nephew of the bride, was junior groomsmen and Joe Barry, another cousin of the groom, acted as the best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Skelly selected a blue formal length dress enhanced with a beaded trim on the bodice and high neckline and designed with long chiffon sleeves.

Mrs. Clark, the groom's mother, was attired in a long pastel pink gown created with a high neckline, long chiffon sleeves and accented with a jewel pin at the Empire waistline.

A reception was held at the VFW Hall immediately following the ceremony and a rehearsal dinner was hosted in the home of the groom's parents.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Madison High School, and her husband is a 1970 Granite City High School graduate. He is presently employed at Prairie Farms Dairy.

Jones 3rd all-state player attracted by Western Illinois

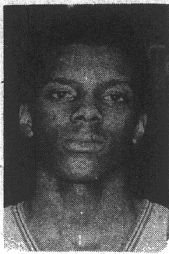

The signing of 6-6 Randall Jones of Class A champion Madison High School brings Western Illinois' basketball recruiting fortunes to four.

Jones is the Leathernecks' third all-state acquisition. The latest letter of intent signed averaged 21.5 points and 14 rebounds per game this past season as he led Coach Larry Graham's 28-3 team to the state title in Champaign.

In the process toward the Class A (750 enrollment and less) championship, Jones shot 71 per cent from the field for all tournament games.

Jones was not only a first-team selection on the all-tournament team and the Chicago-selected all-state squad, but was picked as a first-team member for the local metropolitan Bi-State area contingent.

"We think it's quite unique that we have been able to sign two players who were members of Illinois high school state championship teams," WIU head basketball coach Jack Margenbaker told the Press-Record Friday. WIU is located at Macomb.

RANDALL JONES

Western Illinois recently signed Dwayne Banks, who was a starter for Peoria Central High School, the Class AA champion.

Jones is the fourth WIU basketball recruit this year who will participate in summer all-star games.

"We think he (Jones) can do some things to complement our team. He is an excellent passer and outside shooter."

"We like his team-oriented approach to the game. He is a very unselfish player," added Margenbaker.

Madison Coach Graham said, "Randy is a finessing type of player who has a quick release. He should be a definite asset to your program right away."

Jones' older brother, Ron, is a starter for Illinois U. (Normal) and Margenbaker foresees them playing against each other. "That should be quite a get-together for those two young men when our teams meet next season."

Illinois State, the University of Mississippi, the University of Alabama, Texas Wesleyan and Vincennes Junior College are other schools reported to have been recruiting Jones.

Western Illinois' two other all-state signees this year include 6-4 Jeff Nielsen of Central of Camp Point and 6-2 Doug Garlock of Urbana/DeKalb.

Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones Sr., Venice,

Girl faces hazards, wins friends in South America

By VALERIE EYVENDE

Press-Record Staff Writer
 Interrogated for hours by military police, hitchhiking on a road grader or discovering the "incredible hospitality of the people of South America" brought moments of fear, anxiety and happiness in the past few months to a young woman from Granite City.

Alexia C. Cochrane is young, pretty and adventuresome. She is bilingual and a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and the Mark Twain Institute of Languages.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cochrane, 2730 State St., Alexia is an experienced spelunker (cave explorer), employed by the U. S. Forest Service as a ranger, working in fire ecology.

She will be assigned this summer to the wilderness area of Northern Idaho, known to sportsmen and the rangers as "Bear Country."

As she is preparing to leave for her new posting, Alexia also is recalling the experiences she encountered on a 14,000-mile journey through a continent of vivid contrasts.

Across burning deserts, through tropical jungles and the majestic Andes to the stormy Straits of Magellan, just 700 miles from Antarctica, Alexia's travels took her by boat, bus, train, plane and road grader, and frequently — on foot.

Her journey southward was a trek of four months duration, and cost her $500.

The return trip by air to the United States was accomplished in a brief 10 hours flight time, but also cost $500. Alexia's accommodations during the 16-week expedition were as varied as the terrain she covered, ranging from the luxurious mansion of a wealthy and handsome cattle baron to uncomfortable nights on the hard wooden seats of a miniature-size train and camping out on the front lawn of an impressive resort hotel.

She was showered with gifts of food, fresh-caught fish, vegetables and fruit — and offers of lodging.

Acts of gallantry and kindness toward the pretty North American girl were in evidence everywhere throughout South America, but she also was subjected to the harsh, politically-slanted questions of the fascist-style military in Argentina.

She hungrily consumed a 25-cent breakfast of hot breads, potato pancakes, fried eggs and slices of whole roast pig with hot milk from a steaming cauldron, served by the side of a halted train.

In contrast, Alexia dined in the splendid manor house of a vast baronial estate, spreading over thousands of acres, where the beautifully groomed and coiffured hostess rang a tinkling silver bell to summon servants between courses.

Her memories are vivid and include two ardent proposals of marriage.

Alexia entered Mexico in December to explore caverns in the high mountainous region, an adventure she has experienced several times before.

At Guatemala City, she was joined by Miss Sue Brooks of Chicago, who accompanied Alexia on her travels southward. Alexia acted as spokesman and interpreter for her friend.

An incident occurring almost at the start of the trip could have forecast its pleasant outcome, she relates.

A city considered so dangerous that American tourists are warned to avoid is Cali, Colombia, a notorious center of illegal drug traffic, frequent murders and streets filled with thieves and pick-pockets.

The Granite City girl was prepared for Cali, however, and had $400 cash, travelers checks and her passport pinned to her inner clothing.

Alexia was justly startled when a stranger tapped her on the shoulder. "I whirled around expecting a knife at my throat," she said. "But I was very astonished to find a soft-spoken gentleman handing me 200 pesos which had fallen from my pocket onto the floor."

A tiny train, which the girls dubbed "Little Chicky Click," was boarded at Quito, Ecuador, for a journey through high mountain passes. Most of the passengers were Indians with crates of chickens, produce and household goods, who rode third class on hard, wood-slatted seats.

For an extra charge of 20 cents, Alexia and Sue decided to go "first class" and were handed soft, fat cushions to sit upon.

The next morning the train stopped at a tiny hamlet, at 10,000-foot elevation, for breakfast.

Indian women wearing ponchos and bowler-type hats served the scalding hot milk from cauldrons, the steam rising in the frosty mountain air, and the remaining food, all for 25 cents.

Alexia said the Indian women were "very fat and short, barely over four feet tall" and she seemed to tower over them "like a giant" from her five feet, five inch height.

The "high-sounding" Pan American Highway, streaming across the barren desert of Central Peru, turned out to be a rough road, mostly gravel and deep ruts which caused numerous flat tires.

The girls traveled the "high way" for three days and nights by bus.

A frightening episode was experienced in Argentina when Alexia and Sue were picked up by military police and taken to headquarters.

Their passports were confiscated and the contents of their backpacks—tent, stove, sleeping gear and such—were strewn about the courtyard.

Alexia was interrogated for four hours by different officers in different rooms.

The questions, mostly political, were heavily loaded with tricky implications, Alexia said.

Finally, the commanding officer told Alexia, "You are a very intelligent young lady. You have answered all of our questions very evasively. However, you may go."

They hitched a ride on a road grader and were invited by the young operator to his camp, where he prepared a hot dinner and asked the girls to stay the night. He said that he spent the entire year on the road; this was his life.

Alexia and Sue criss-crossed the awesome Andes Mountains several times on the way south. They lived like the native people, staying away from the tourist haunts and meeting only six other North Americans on the entire route.

During this period, they discovered the "incredible hospitality of the people," being showered with gifts of food, fresh-caught fish, vegetables and offers of lodging.

They learned never to refuse a gift or offer to pay, as both are considered deeply insulting.

Other travelers along the road expressed astonishment upon seeing two young, pretty American girls hitchhiking.

"Although traffic was sparse, everyone stopped. Even vehicles packed to the doors would halt and the drivers and passengers would apologize for the lack of room," Alexia said.

A bus driver picked them up and the girls rode for hours without being charged. Their fare was to sing "Yankee Doodle," meaning sharing the lunches and fresh fruits of the other passengers.

Alexia and Sue were invited to camp on the front lawn of an expensive luxury resort by the military and were fed sumptuous food by the paying patrons.

Roasting a four-pound trout, impaled on green sticks, over an open fire was one of the most delicious meals, and they were invited to spend the summer as guests of a tall, handsome cattle baron who lived in a massive house by his own private river.

The clear, cold stream tumbling down from the Andes, was overflowing with the huge trout.

It was in the manor house on this estate where the girls enjoyed the formal dinner, presided over by the gracious bell-tinkling hostess.

Alexia, an experienced horseman, was given her own mount. The high-spirited animal was equipped with a hand-ditched sheepskin saddle, much more comfortable than the accepted American saddle, she said.

They made friends with the gauchos (ranch hands) and traded stories of their experiences.

The extreme heat and humidity of Buenos Aires were in sharp contrast to the crisp mountain air, and outdoors at high noon seemed hardly the place for a two-hour luncheon.

But, the girls accepted an invitation to lunch from members of a construction crew remodeling the lobby of their small hotel, and again encountered an enjoyable happening when the workmen broiled thick steaks over a charcoal fire, built right on the sidewalk in front of the hotel.

In Southern Chile's Puerto Montt, on the Pacific Ocean, almost at the end of their travels, Alexia has fond memories of "a spacious, airy room, its wide balcony overlooking a sunlit beach with hundreds of gorgeous flowers in verdant gardens perfuming the air."

"Coming home each evening, our room was spic and span, the laundry" was handwashed, neatly pressed, and a cup of hot tea with biscuits always were waiting," she said.

Cost of their accommodation in Puerto Montt was $2 per day and they spent $1.50 for a meal.

Polish festival Sunday

The crowning of the May queen at 7 p.m. on Sunday, May 29, will highlight the May Festival at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

May queen candidates are: Mary Lapinski, Susan Ruesing, Rosemary Krawiecki, Linda Tutka, Laura Mendez and Elizabeth Malink.

Two bands will be featured, "The Remedies" Polka Band from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. and the "Good Times" Polka Band from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m. The Checkerboard Squares will perform at 3 p.m. and the Croatian Junior Tamburitza at 4:15 p.m. The Polish Culture Club Chorus and the St. Stanislaus Polish Dancers will entertain at 5:30 p.m. Polish foods will be served beginning at noon.

Initially St. Stanislaus 1004 was organized in 1917 for the convenience of the Madison members of the Polish Roman Catholic Union who found it difficult to travel to St. Louis to pay dues at their respective societies there.

Faustyn Turski spearheaded the drive for a PRCU Society on the Illinois side of the Mississippi. The first committee meetings were held at his home.

Regular monthly meetings were then held in the St. Mary's parish schoolhouse. As the membership increased, Madison's first Polish Hall located at Highland and Edwardsville Road was rented.

In 1935 St. Stanislaus Lodge PRCU 1004 in joint ownership with the PNA Wladyslaw Jagiello Society 402 purchased the hall at 826 Greenwood St., remodeled and expanded it and renamed it the New Polish Home. In 1954, St. Stanislaus 1004 bought out the PNA holdings and purchased additional property adjoining the building.

In 1975, a $70,000 expansion program was undertaken to accommodate the growing membership. President Ed Forsy, advised by the Polish Hall building committee chairman Edward Bonk, contracted with Bill Pietrusi, architect, and the Ed Moore Contractors, for the building expansion project.

The remodeling project has been completed. St. Stanislaus Lodge 50-year families with four generations active in the organization were honored at a breakfast held earlier in the year. They include:

Mr. and Mrs. John Forsy with son Edward Forsy, granddaughter Mrs. Nancy Stimac and great-granddaughter Jennifer Stimac. Joseph Lupa, the senior member of St. Stanislaus Lodge with his grandchildren, Leonard Lupa and Mrs. Arlene Pavlov and great-grandchildren Nicholas, Elaine, Susan and Lisa Pavlov.

Karen Wylam to new assignment

Airman Karen D. Wylam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Wood, 1855 St. Clair Ave., has received a new assignment following graduation from the jet engine mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Wylam, now trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines, will go to Travis AFB, Calif., for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman attended Granite City High School South.

Youth charged with assault

Tommy Hughes, 19, of 2717 Roosevelt Ave., was charged with aggravated assault and resisting arrest after he allegedly held a glass and struggled with a policeman arresting him at his home at 8:20 p.m. Thursday.

Police said his mother called and alleged her son was acting in a disorderly manner and had thrown a picnic table through a window of the home.

When police arrived, the mother gave officers permission to enter and Patrolman J. W. Apperson said Hughes confronted him while holding a drinking glass, which Hughes refused to put down.

Apperson alleged, Hughes showed him and threatened to "bash your skull in," and officers had to struggle with him to make an arrest.

Hughes' bond was set at $5,000 and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Bids on left turn signals

Granite City council members have authorized a call for bids for installation of left turn light at Pontoon and Nameoki Roads, for traffic turning from Pontoon onto Nameoki.

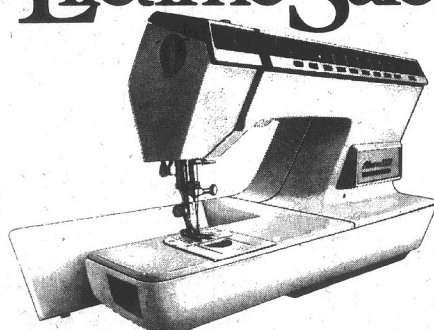

The bid authorization was approved on a motion by Alderman Emerald Daves of the Seventh Ward after the city received notice from the Illinois Department of Transportation that an appropriation of $9,500 in motor fuel tax funds — approved by the council in an earlier meeting — had been accepted by the DOT.

The $9,500 appropriation in MFT funds brought to $15,000 the total amount appropriated by the city for the traffic light revision.

Installation of a left turn light at the intersection has been in the planning stage for more than a year, but has encountered several long delays.

Cities acting to keep pace with floodplain revisions; important to note existence of levees in local area

Granite City officials are preparing new ordinances and documents which need to be approved by a June 1 deadline if the city is to qualify for continued participation in the National Flood Insurance Program. It will be important that new restrictions not go beyond reasonable bounds in hampering already-limited construction activity.

The city now is part of the flood insurance program under criteria established last October and embraced by city ordinances approved by the City Council at that time. But new changes in the program require further changes by municipalities to conform with the federal revisions.

City Council members last week referred to City Attorney George Pilciff the problem of preparing new ordinances that will place Granite City in compliance with the federally-revised program after they were notified by the Illinois Department of Transportation that "it is highly doubtful that your existing floodplain legislation will comply with the NFIP regulations after June 1."

The local "floodplain" differs from many in that it is levee-protected, but the U.S. and state often overlook this fact.

The DOT, which is the state coordinating agency for the flood insurance program through its Water Resources Division, said in its notice to the city that the state "strongly recommends that you review your existing floodplain legislation in light of the new NFIP rules."

Mayor Paul Schuler told council members last week, "This is a very serious issue they are proposing, particularly the June 1 deadline which is difficult to meet."

Attorney Pilciff commented that the revisions by the city necessary to meet federal regulations "could mean extensive changes in our building codes and inspection systems."

"Under this new program, it could become very difficult to get a building permit for anything without strict compliance with drainage problems. There is no way anyone can build anything that would interfere with natural drainage."

The National Flood Insurance Program provides insurance for property against flooding on the basis of highly detailed elevation charts, drainage factors, natural drainage forces, building codes to control drainage and other factors that make up a "flood potential" for properties in different sections of the area in which the regulations apply.

These factors are set out in regulations of the federal insurance plan. Cities, counties and other agencies participating in the plan must adopt ordinances and other measures placing the communities in compliance with the federally-established regulations.

Venice already has completed revision of its ordinances to meet the changes in the new federal program.

In Madison, Mayor Mike Sayk has said that City Council members are expected to take up the matter at a regular council meeting on May 31.

Much of the material necessary for municipal actions to comply with the new program is being coordinated by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission. In recent months, SIMARPC has been holding a series of workshops and meetings with officials throughout the Madison County area.

Among major revisions in the insurance program is one in which cities must require a permit for all development in flood-prone areas, including "any man-made change, improvement or unimproved real estate, including buildings or other structures, mining, dredging, grading, paving, excavation or drilling operations."

Other factors entering into new local legislation to revise their floodplain management regulations also include mobile homes, flood elevation data for all subdivisions proposals greater than 50 lots or five acres; alteration and relocation of a watercourse, provisions for variances and exceptions and the revision and utilization of any base flood data from federal, state or other sources for requiring the elevating and floodproofing of new structures.

Participating agencies also have been told that Section 1910 of the program regulations — that in which most of the revisions have been made — may "from time to time be revised as experience is acquired under the NFIP and new information becomes available."

"Communities will be given six months from the effective date of any new regulation to revise their floodplain management regulations to comply with such changes."

It is noteworthy that such revisions, with potentially massive impact on the Granite City area, are stemming from administrative orders rather than new laws.

1977 scout program a blend of old and new outdoor skills

As Chief Scout Executive Harvey L. Price noted at the 1977 annual meeting of this scouting region, the Boy Scouts of America is maintaining time-tested character-building programs.

At the same time, it is changing rank requirements from such 1910 skills as stopping a runaway horse to 1977 goals like conservation of natural resources.

Price sees "home, church and school" continuing as the prime factors in young people's growth and development, with scouting emphasizing familiarity with the outdoors, occupational expertise, and the same time, leadership experience, self-sufficiency and practice in fostering teamwork to meet mutual needs and objectives.

Shocked at defense of baby sales

To the Editor:

Why do thieves choose CB radios, guns and televisions as their loot? Because there is a market for them.

Stolen goods, without that market, are non-productive for the thief and, therefore, unattractive.

So why is a so-called champion of "motherhood and apple pie" working to provide a market for kidnapping?

In a shocking broadcast, on national radio Feb. 10, 1977, Phyllis Schlafly, head of STOP ERA, said:

"I'm Phyllis Schlafly. In recent months, there have been a number of arrests for the crime of selling babies. The very idea of paying money for human beings sounds offensive to a civilized society, and police have moved energetically against the guilty parents and baby brokers."

"I think it's time to revise our thinking about this problem, but first let's define it. We are not talking about either abandoning or abusing a child. Those are both crimes that should be severely punished."

"The crime that needs to be re-evaluated is the case of parents who do not want their baby, but do want the baby to be provided for in a good home with loving foster parents."

"Most of us can't imagine a mother who doesn't want her baby, but some come to that conclusion because of the shame of illegitimacy, the under age of the mother, emotional immaturity, economic hardship or the burden of single parenthood. "On the other side of the scale, there are thousands of couples who, to their acute disappointment, are unable to have babies of their own. "Adoption agencies have long waiting lists and can't possibly satisfy the demand. On the black market, many couples have paid $10,000 or more to get a baby. The price in New York City is reported as high as $35,000. "What's so wrong about that?

If I hadn't been blessed with babies of my own, I would have been happy to have paid thousands of dollars for a baby. "Where there is a willing seller and an eager buyer, and the baby moves from an unwanted environment into a home with loving adoptive parents, where's the crime? "Adoption agencies argue that all adoptions should go through their hands in order to provide the best placement for each baby and confidentiality for the parties. I agree that is the better way. "But I don't necessarily follow that those who choose an alternate procedure should be sent to jail. "Much publicity was recently given to a young couple who allegedly sold their five-month-old baby for $60. The baby had been well taken care of. "Although their motive in selling the baby is unclear, it would be ridiculous to send that pathetic couple to jail for a year, the prescribed punishment for that offense."

"I suggest that the police spend all their available time protecting society against real criminals, instead of chasing after those whose actions result in transferring babies to better homes than they were born into. If there is such a thing as a victimless crime, baby sales are it. Phyllis Schlafly for Spectrum," she concluded. "Mrs. Schlafly's claims regarding the equal Rights Amendment have been proven erroneous, and misleading by scholars in law, government and theology — (both locally and nationally). "Persons too interested in the best reliable information have continued to accept her

Venice man is shot at Forest Park

John Newsome, 22, of 609 Mercedia Ave., Venice, is in critical condition today in Homer G. Phillips Hospital, St. Louis, after being shot in the abdomen and right thumb during a fight in Forest Park at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Newsome told officers he and another man had a disagreement about a woman and the man, about 25, kicked him in the back, knocking him to the ground.

Newsome said he then got a knife out to protect himself, and the other man displayed a gun and fired one shot which missed Newsome.

Newsome began chasing the gunman, who turned and fired two more shots at Newsome, both bullets striking him.

Newsome said he stabbed the gunman several times and a friend of the gunman's entered the fight and also was stabbed.

The two men fled and officers were called to aid Newsome. A hold order has been placed on him for investigation of two counts of assault with intent to kill and one count of carrying a concealed weapon, a St. Louis Police Department spokesman said.

5 charges filed

Three youths were charged at 11 p.m. Friday after a vehicle operated by Kerry M. Diorena, 2657 Cleveland Blvd., stopped at St. Clair and Myrtle avenues.

Police said the auto was being pursued north on Nameoki Road and went through a service station lot at Nameoki and St. Clair. They charged seeing two beer cans being thrown from a car window.

The auto turned south on Myrtle Avenue and stopped at an open beer can allegedly was found beneath the front seat.

The driver was charged with speeding, illegal transportation of alcohol and being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Keith R. Watson, 3533 Benton St., was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol, and the same charge was filed against a 16-year-old passenger.

Phone accident

Telephone users throughout the Quad-City area experienced disruptions to their telephone service for about one hour Friday morning as the result of the company's air conditioner system malfunctioning, causing the main electronic switching system to overheat.

The computer continued to operate, but delays in obtaining dialing tones led many persons to believe their phones were out of order, Ken Evers, commercial manager for Illinois Bell explained.

Persons affected were those with telephone numbers of 461, 462, 476 and 877. Evers said the delay in obtaining a dial tone averaged about 16 seconds, but was long enough to lead many residents to believe their phones were not operating.

The phone company was "besieged" by callers who did obtain dial tones and called to report trouble with their phones, he said.

He noted that during some erratic weather or during events which cause many persons to try and dial at the same time, similar delays may be encountered in obtaining a dial tone. He requested those who experience such problems to give the phone company sufficient time to resolve the problem.

Full service was restored within one hour after Friday's difficulty, he said. He explained the failure of the air conditioner allowed the temperature to rise in the area which houses the switching system and computer.

Arrest in attic

Lurton Cherry, 17, 3301 Fairmont Ave., State Park Place, was charged Friday with burglary and Sharon Tyler, 19, of 2033 Fifth St., East Madison, was charged today with burglary.

A police investigation had been in progress on about six burglaries and attempted burglaries and a theft case in recent weeks.

Both have been charged with breaking into the home of Wella Martin, 2342 Winters Drive, Thursday night and taking a small amount of cash.

Officers allege Cherry has admitted that burglary and has given officers information related to 17 other occurrences.

Information received from Cherry led to the arrest of his sister, Mrs. Tyler, and the recovery of a gun and a hair dryer from her home; the gun and dryer allegedly were taken from the home of a Fairview Heights policeman last week.

Cherry first was taken into custody at 28th Street and Grand Avenue after he allegedly ran from a policeman.

Officer Douglas Law saw a youth with blond, almost white, hair, matching the description of a youth seen in the vicinity of several incidents in that neighborhood.

Law said he questioned the youth, who said he was in the neighborhood looking for a lost dog. During the questioning, Law alleged, the youth ran. Law said he chased him on foot through several yards before catching him and taking him into custody at 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

Detectives questioned him and alleged he gave several names. His identity was unknown until early Friday when he was identified as a youth allegedly on parole from the Illinois Department of Corrections' Juvenile Division, who had been released from a juvenile institution in March.

While he was being booked at the police station, $201 cash was found in a coin purse in his pocket and in his under clothing, officers alleged.

During questioning, he allegedly told officers he would show them where loot was hidden in a home in East Madison.

At about 3 p.m. Friday, police drove him to his sister's home and Cherry allegedly said she would not open the door if she saw police, so officers agreed to stay at the end of the block while he entered.

Officers watched the front and rear doors, and Cherry failed to return.

Several minutes later, they went to the home to ask why he had not reappeared. Officers said they were told he had gone into the attic. There was no response to calls to the attic, so Madison police and Madison County sheriff's deputies were summoned to aid in retrieving him from the attic.

Seven officers entered the house and were warned there were guns in the attic. Flashlights were obtained and Madison Sgt. William Papa entered the attic and found Cherry lying between plaster boards used for the ceiling, it was alleged.

When he allegedly refused to crawl out, a section of the plaster ceiling was knocked out from beneath and Cherry was taken into custody through the hole.

There were guns in the attic but none near Cherry, officers reported.

Cherry was returned to the Granite City police station, and bond was set at $15,000.

At 3:40 a.m. Saturday, police checked cells and noticed Cherry had a cut to his right wrist which was bleeding. A small piece of glass was found near him. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for a two-inch superficial cut and then returned to jail.

TRUCK CAMPER STOLEN
Camp Farrell Jr., 4000 Sara Ave., Apt. 146, reported at 12:40 a.m. Sunday that his 1969 maroon ranger truck with a white camper shell had been stolen from the parking area there.

TAKEN FOR QUESTIONING. Granite City and Madison police and Madison County sheriff's deputies arrest two persons at 2033 Fifth St., East Madison, Friday afternoon. Lurton Cherry, in handcuffs, at far right in the background, allegedly hid in the attic of the home of a sister. Madison Police Sgt. William Papa, holding Cherry's arm, entered the attic and helped arrest him. The sister, Mrs. Sharon Tyler, is in the center of the picture. She and Cherry have been charged with burglary. Granite City Detective Tony Eck is on the porch of the home and Deputy Sgt. Wesley Kendall is following Mrs. Tyler.

Fire guts side of Venice duplex

One side of a block duplex at 1031 (rear) Douglas St., Venice, was gutted by fire at 10 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Lizzie Nelson, occupant of the three-room duplex, lost all furniture and other contents in the blaze. No loss estimate was available, nor is it known how the fire started.

Venice firemen, at the scene for one hour and 40 minutes, had difficulty keeping vehicles from running over the water hoses and were assisted by police in directing traffic away from the fire.

A patrolling officer noticed at 2:05 a.m. Sunday that the trailer was tilted over. The dolly on the right side was buried about 30 inches, causing the left rear wheel to leave the pavement.

The trailer and contents weighed about 30,000 pounds. The trailer is under lease to Illinois Freight Systems in Alton. Roger W. Wyble, 2937 Morgan St., was listed as the driver.

New York cyclists visit at Pontoon

Stopping overnight Sunday, as guests of the Pontoon Beach Police department, two young cyclists from New York have covered 940 miles since May 8 to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). They left today.

Terry Randall, 23, and Michele Trifoneo, 21, have a goal of $6,000 for the MDA. Muscular Dystrophy is a disease of unknown origin that produces progressive muscular deterioration and wasting.

The pair arrived here at 10 last night after riding from a point about 10 miles east of Greenville.

"We average about 75 to 100 miles a day," Miss Trifoneo said. "I'm not sure how much we have raised, as a special account has been set up in the Elmira bank."

"Anyone wanting to donate can make checks payable to Cycling for MDA and send them in care of Mrs. Martha McKown, 1030 Hulett St., Horseheads, N.Y., 14845."

Boys aged 10, 11 admit burglaries

Two boys, ages 10 and 11, have admitted burgling the apartment of Mary Clements, 1901 Edwardsville Road, on several occasions, including Saturday night.

The victim said she returned home about 10:15 p.m. Saturday and thought someone might have been in her apartment, but did not report the incident until Sunday when she discovered a doll and $13 cash missing.

She said she confronted two neighbor boys who admitted breaking into the apartment. They had gone through an adjoining apartment used for storage.

While police were present, the boys returned toys, dolls, books and $13 cash to the woman. They also disclosed a "stash" of candy they bought with other money from the apartment.

Agreements were made to repay the young woman and she agreed not to sign complaints. Police warned the boys of the seriousness of such actions and told their parents what had happened.

POST TOWN BUDGETS

Town fund, revenue sharing, general assistance, municipal retirement and anti-recessional fiscal budgets totaling $41,187 have been posted for public inspection by Nameoki Township at 4250 Highway 162.

The budgets are $41,187 higher than the previous fiscal year budgets, but $32,107 of the increases are due to additional federal grants which must be budgeted.

New economic (Continued from Page 1)

Port General Manager Carl A. Ranft told the gathering, "This new terminal will be capable of transferring dry bulk products such as grain and grain products from rail to barge at a rate of 750 tons per hour."

"This will enable the Port to load a barge of 1,500 tons in approximately two and a half hours."

"The new facility will be capable of handling up to 5,000,000 tons per year. Many of these products being transferred will be for export to Europe and Japanese markets."

"The State of Illinois is providing the construction capital for this project, with provisions that the Tri-City Regional Port District repay the state from operating revenues."

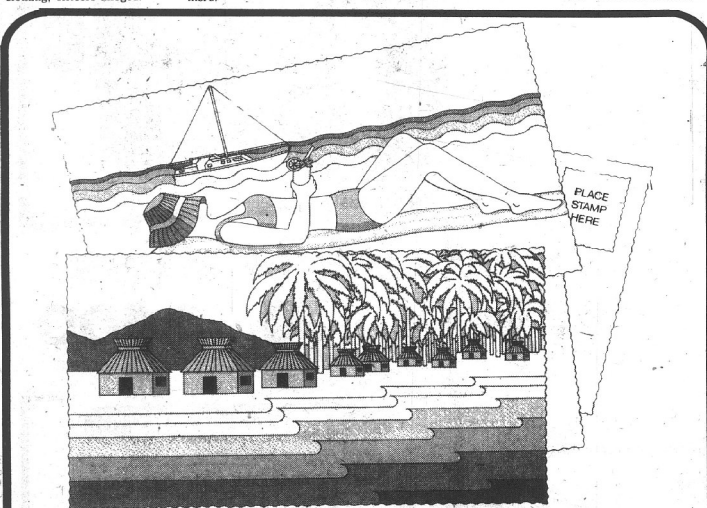

"This facility and the other facilities now operating within the Port serve to help keep Illinois competitive in the world market."

"Illinois is the leading export state in the country with sales exceeding $80 billion in 1976."

"The Tri-City Port for the first nine months of its fiscal year is well ahead of last year's total tonnage, which was a record year. The Port expects to exceed 1,500,000 tons per year."

"Legislators of our area deserve much of the credit for helping the Port obtain state help in financing this project."

"The Tri-City Port District is being recognized as one of the most progressive ports in the Midwest area."

MHS students ask earlier graduation

The Madison Board of Education took under advisement Thursday at its regular meeting a request from the Madison High School Student Council to adopt a plan to allow "industrious students" to earn their diploma in three or three and one-half years.

Speaking for the Student Council delegation was Dale Woodman, a graduating senior, and John Harrison, Student Council adviser.

The proposal was to determine graduation on earned credits rather than longevity of attending four years, and thus allow for mid-year graduation.

Woodman said, "I would like to start with the job market and the proposal. It would not cost any more money. We would have fewer dropouts and, students have a goal. The plan would be optional; if a student or his parents wanted to stay four years, he could. They might want to stay and play football as I did."

"Some of the January graduates would get an early start on college," he said, "and increase a student's chances for scholarship aid and grants."

A requirement that the students feel is hard to comprehend is that they are required to take four years of English and four years of physical education, but have to wait three years of each to graduate.

Board member Chester McHenry said, "Because I remember when I went to school we had mid-year graduations and that was a long time ago."

The board set the last day of school as Thursday, May 26; with Madison High School graduation at 7:30 p.m. the same day. Awards and recognition day will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 25 for the junior high school.

The board passed a resolution; continue a special education tax levy of four cents per assessed valuation, and continue a special levy of five cents per $100 to keep the buildings in compliance with all fire and safety codes.

The board also voted to require all certified personnel except three temporary employees who have been filling in for teachers on sabbatical leave.

The board also voted to require all non-certified personnel. Negotiations on new contracts are in progress with teacher and other personnel.

Climatrol has been in the heating/cooling business for 14 years. You've got to figure that any product that's stayed around for that long has a pretty good product. As a Climatrol dealer, we've always had the kind of equipment people want... at a price they can afford.
We'll match our competitive prices against anyone's, because we can sell you a system that is exactly measured to suit your home's needs, not oversized or undersized.
